

Summer is Here

By Sisanda Sivako (social work student).

I have been bitten by the gardening bug!! I went down to “The Gates” after 2 weeks absence and I couldn't believe the transformation! I walked down the path to the greenhouse. Daffodils lined each side of the path. The sun's rays danced on the daffodils, creating a golden hue. The resident wild cat made a dash across the path, showering dandelion seed heads in the air.

The sun's rays warmed our backs as we weeded the vegetable patches, little shoots sprouting. Now it was a matter of waiting for the spring onions, horseradishes, garlic and other vegetables to fully grow.

Come down to “The Gates” for a thoroughly exhilarating experience.

The Gates is a horticultural project which aims to build community by offering opportunities to develop new skills and interest.

has a 'Recycle like a Womble' event on Wednesday 20th April from 2.00 till 3.00 pm come along and learn about recycling.

May sees the Brentwood Heritage and Arts trail running in the town. Come along to the Library and see the art work from Local Artists and then follow the trail around the town seeing more art work and also find out about the heritage of Brentwood. Running from the 14th May until the 31st May the trail will show you lots of new art and things you did not know about Brentwood. The Library is holding 2 events in association with the Brentwood Museum called "Memory Exchange". Find out what Brentwood High Street was like years ago. On Tuesday 17th May the exhibition will look at the North side of the High Road and Tuesday 24th May will focus on the South side. The exhibitions will run from 10.00 till 4.00 each day.

Remember the Book Rest Café in the Library is open from 10.30 am till 3.00 pm every weekday. We have the good coffee just bring along your friends to share it with.
