

The Dramaquarium Project

Our work is about empowerment. So much of what happens for people with profound and multiple disability happens to them and is not driven by them. Our aim with this new Dramaquarium project is not just to tell the Odyssey story but also to enable our disabled participants to be the focus of the story as the hero/heroine of the story.

Each of our participants is engaged on a voyage through life. In that voyage they will encounter many obstacles and problems. They will also encounter many helpful people and situations.

In a symbolic way, using the Odyssey story we are portraying their voyage. We have created a very real network of artists and teachers and support staff to enable them to lead our story and to show how the voyage is completed by homecoming .

Line Dancing 'Tuesday Club Style'

Last Tuesday the members and volunteers of Tuesday Club took to the dance floor to learn how to 'Line Dance'. We were guided by the expert instructions of one of our most respected volunteers, (David) and a fun evening was had by all!! We also had the opportunity to listen to a variety of country music and were very grateful to Trevor for coming along with his banjo, guitar and lyre and playing for us. For the less musical amongst us there was a craft competition ably judged by John. If you would like to know more about Tuesday Club or you would like to join us, there are contact details overleaf.
